SharePoint Consulting: Improving organisational use, storage and control of information

Documentation growth provides challenges

The control of documents in today's organisation is a constant challenge. E-mailing, search and scanning technologies along with use of the internet, ensure that left unchecked, documentation grows rapidly within businesses.

Gaining control over documentation requires a considered and systematic approach to both technology and governance. SharePoint is a sound enabling technology which can facilitate this control provided the appropriate foundations have been put in place along with the right on-going management practices.

With these foundations and practices, SharePoint will enable:

- Improvements in the quality of information stored
- Improved ability to find that information
- Improved ability to learn from what is found

Maximising returns from SharePoint investments

Artis provides the following SharePoint based consulting services to assist organisations achieve control of documents and drive business change and improvement:

- Architecture and design
- SharePoint 2010 implementations
- Governance and business change
- Integration services
- Management and health checks
- Document management services

Reliable advice, process driven deployment

Artis SharePoint experts can advise as to the suitability of this technology to your business. This advice extends well beyond the basic benefits of the technology: it will identify whether other benefits can be captured by interfacing with other existing applications. Artis expertise in related Microsoft technologies (.Net, SQL etc) enable a broad based organisational view of SharePoint as an enabler of business improvement and change.

Artis has expertise, experience and proven processes around SharePoint 2010 deployments of significant scale. By far the most complete SharePoint solution to date, there can be significant benefits in organisations upgrading to this version, as the additional functionality is significant.

Artis has industry expertise and experience in the following sectors:

- Financial services
- Insurance
- Education
- Media
- Telecommunications
- Retail
- Government

Artis provides an end-to-end document solution

Artis provides a deeper SharePoint and document management capability than its peers through its partnership with Intelledox. This leading document creation technology seamlessly integrates to SharePoint to provide a true end-to-end capability. With Intelledox:

- Document creation is controlled at an organisation level, eliminating risk around key documents.
- Users can quickly generate and store complete, accurate and correctly formatted documents from their familiar SharePoint environment.
- The integration into the SharePoint environment is so seamless that users are often unaware that they are using the Intelledox application.

Artis SharePoint consulting services are well suited to organisations where:

- Document control is an issue
- There are a multitude of document depositories
- There is a lack of in-house SharePoint expertise
- A large scale deployment is required
- Existing use of SharePoint is sub-optimal
- Management practices require overhaul
- Document creation capability requires control and efficiency

Our vision is to be our clients first choice for the design, development integration and support of their business applications through our reputation for expertise and commitment.

"The expertise and professionalism of the Artis team has been a big factor in assisting Salmat to deliver a difficult project."

Shirley Gatti,
GM PMO and Delivery, Salmat

What distinguishes Artis SharePoint practice from other consultants?

There are numerous SharePoint focused consulting businesses that can deliver sound advice around this technology. Artis stands apart through its broadly based capabilities around the Microsoft .Net technology stack, its end-to-end solution capability (through Intelledox), its expertise and commitment.

"People are an Artis strength. Their staff are proactive and have a wide range of knowledge and expertise. Their willingness and involvement was the key ingredient in the success of our project"
